To have your own way of thinking. Failure is the step to success.

The part where speaker explained - how important is to say No !

Nothing specific

Commitment related thoughts

Being a generalist, dealing with ideas

I loved the way he anticipated and answered all of the questions in a highly intellectual manner. This intriguing talk has indirectly broadened my thinking and the manner in which one should approach any issue in life.

Almost every part he said was inspiring and mind blowing. His views on reading and missing out on things were very introspective .
